FEDERAL DIRECT STUDENT LOAN

This worksheet includes information to help you make a wise decision about borrowing loan funds under the Federal Direct Student Loan Program.

ELIGIBILITY

Citizens or permanent legal residents attending school at least half time are eligible for Federal Direct Student loans. Males must also have satisfied Selective Service requirements. If you are in default on a previous loan, you will not be able to borrow additional student loans.

KEY POINTS

Unlike scholarships and grants, education loans must be repaid with interest. Never borrow before you have exhausted all other sources of financial aid, and never borrow more than you need. If you do not qualify for the maximum student loan amount available for your grade level in subsidized funds, you may be able to borrow the remaining amount in unsubsidized funds. Undergraduate students classified as independent qualify for additional unsubsidized funding. (See Federal Direct Student Loan features and benefits chart below.)

FEES

1.062% in loan fees may be deducted from your loan proceeds prior to disbursement. These fees help offset the administrative costs associated with the Federal Direct Student Loan Program.

DISBURSEMENTS

Loan funds are released in two or more disbursements directly to the school via electronic funds transfer (EFT). Students must be enrolled in and attending six credit hours prior to the first loan disbursement. Funds must be used only for education-related expenses such as tuition, fees, books, and room and board. First-time Federal Direct Student Loan borrowers at SUNY Broome are required to complete Entrance Counseling before funds can be released and will not receive their funds until 30 days after classes begin.

FEATURES AND BENEFITS OF FEDERAL DIRECT STUDENT LOANS

You can borrow up to the maximum student loan amount available for your grade level. The federal government pays interest on subsidized student loans while you are eligibly enrolled in school and for a six-month grace period afterward. If you do not qualify for the maximum student loan amount available for your grade level in subsidized funds, you may be able to borrow the remaining amount in unsubsidized funds; however, you will be responsible for all interest that accrues on your unsubsidized loan from the date of disbursement.
